LIBERTY LOAN CAMPAIGN NOW IN FULL SWING

DIXON IS STRAINING EVERY EFFORT TO SUBSCRIBE ITS FULL SHARE.

VARIOUS COMMITTEES NAMED

Three and One-Half Dollars Starts You On Road To Liberty—Act At Once.

Approximately $75,000 has been subscribed by the people of Dixon and this community for Liberty Loan bonds up to this time. By Friday of next week it is believed that Dixon people will have subscribed the $274,000 allotted to this community as our share in the national Liberty Loan.

Several Dixon people have subscribed $10,000 each and there are numerous $5,000 subscriptions. $1,000 subscriptions are being received at the banks in considerable numbers and before the campaign in Dixon is closed it is hoped that nearly every family will have subscribed for at least one fifty dollar bond.

The three Dixon banks have made arrangements that will permit every one who wants to own a bond to do so. You can go to your banker tomorrow and by paying $3.50 as an initial payment you can become the owner of a $50 Liberty Loan bond. You will pay for it in semi-monthly payments and the payments will not be so large that they will inconvenience you. Before you realize it, you will have the bond paid for and your money will be invested in something as sound as the government itself. It will pay three and one-half per cent annual dividend and the dividends will be paid semi-annually. You will tear off the coupons and present them at any bank, where they will be cashed.

The bond issue must be subscribed by next Thursday, when the books will be closed. Dixon has a big share to contribute, and quick action is absolutely necessary.

EXEMPTION BOARD IS NAMED FOR COUNTY

ATTY. H. S. DIXON OF THIS CITY AND J. M. EGAN, SR., OF AMBOY.

HAVE NO KNOWLEDGE OF DUTY

Instructions Will Probably Be Sent From Provost Marshal's Office.

Attorney Henry S. Dixon of this city and John M. Egan, Sr., of Amboy have been appointed the exemption board for Lee county by Provost Marshal General Dickson.

News of the appointment came to the Telegraph this morning in an Associated Press dispatch from Springfield, which also announced names of the men appointed as the exemption boards for the other counties in the 5th Senatorial district.

DeKalb county—John MacQueen, Kirkland, and E. F. Ledoyt of Sandwich.

Whiteside county—James P. Overholser and W. J. Gallagher, both of Sterling.

Has No Instructions.

In reply to questions by a Telegraph representative Mr. Dixon said this morning that he had no knowledge of what his duties would be or when he would enter upon them. It is probable instructions will be sent from the provost marshal's office in a short time regarding the work, which it is not likely will commence until the selective draft has been made by the war department officials from the list of those who registered Tuesday.

NEXT WEEK'S INCOME TO GO FOR LIBERTY

LOCAL MERCHANT WILL DEVOTE WEEK TO LIBERTY LOAN INVESTMENT.

A. W. Kramer, proprietor of Kramer's Five and Ten Cent store in this city, announced today that he would use the entire income from his store during the first five days of next week for the purchase of Liberty bonds.

The sale of the bonds stops next Friday. From Monday to Friday Mr. Kramer will have a great lot of unusual bargains for sale in his store and he is going to spend extra money advertising them to the people of this community. The income for the week will be quite large and every cent that is paid into his store on the days named will be invested in the Liberty Loan.

Mr. Kramer's plan might well be adopted by other Dixon merchants.

Washington, June 7.—The U. S. naval collier Jupiter has arrived in France with 10,500 tons of wheat and other supplies for the American troops which will reach France later. The Jupiter was conveyed by an American warship. It is one of the largest of the navy's colliers and was first electrically propelled steamer built. The Jupiter is high speed.

ANOTHER SUBMARINE SUNK BY AMERICANS

GUN CREW ON U. S. SILVERSHILL BESTS U-BOAT IN RUNNING FIGHT.

SIXTY SHOTS WERE EXCHANGED

Submarine "Suddenly Disappeared"—Gun Commander To Be Promoted.

(Associated Press)
Paris, June 7.—American steamer, Silvershill, 5500 tons, owned by the Shell Oil Co. of California, had a running battle with a submarine in the Mediterranean May 30. Sixty shots were exchanged before the submarine disappeared suddenly. The American ship proved speedier and master in gunfire. The crew of 43, of whom 15 are Americans, were commanded by Capt. Charlton of New York.

Washington, June 7.—William J. Clark, Warrant Officer from the battleship Arkansas, commanded the armed guard of the American steamer Silvershill, which sunk a German submarine in the Mediterranean. "It was a splendid piece of work and we are considering promotion for Clark," Sec. Daniels said.

Concerning the sinking of a German U-boat by another American armed steamer, which was announced yesterday, the navy department says:

"The department of state is advised by telegraph of an engagement between an armed American steamer and a submarine. The guns of the steamer were manned by an American naval crew. The submarine was first seen at about 7,000 yards. She had a six inch gun forward and another aft. She flew no flag.

"Upon sight of the submarine the steamer hoisted the American flag and waited for about ten minutes. As the submarine approached the steamer fired. The submarine responded. The steamer kept a speed that would permit the submarine to come within range.

Fight Lasts Over Hour.

"Then followed a fight lasting for an hour and a half. The submarine came to a distance of about 2,300 yards. By that time the submarine had fired thirty-five shots and the steamer twenty-five. The last shot of the steamer apparently struck the submarine, which rose clear out of the water and stood stern up for a few seconds. Then she disappeared. The captain of the steamer and the commander of the guard believe that the submarine was sunk. The steamer suffered no damage."

CAUTION KEEPS MEN OUT OF GOOD PLACES

LIEUT. REID WRITES OF WAY SOME MEN LET OFF OPPORTUNITY PASS.

Lieut. C. P. Reid, now in charge of the national guard recruiting office at Springfield, has written the Telegraph that he wants about a dozen motorcycleists for a telegraph company; the department just having given that part of the enlisted Signal Reserve Corps. Lieut. Reid also wants bakers, butchers and blacksmiths for the Quartermasters Enlisted Reserve Corps. He is now enlisting for five companies and the wireless service.

Speaking of the manner some men have of putting off enlisting Mr. Reid says "I have noticed in small towns our way but few men have taken advantage of our offer, and have only written cautious letters to get further information, and then in perhaps two weeks they do ask for the highest place on the list only to have us notify them we are all full in that department, and then offer them something not as good in another department, and then they are so cautious they let that go until it is filled."

SERIOUSLY ILL.

Mrs. Bertha Ramsey, waitress at the Manhattan cafe, is seriously ill with tonsillitis at the home of her mother, Mrs. Ida Jones, 625 First street.

ROCKFORD JAIL TOO SMALL FOR DRAFT RIOTERS

Cantonment City Furnishes Big Demonstration By Her "Slackers"

(Associated Press)

Chicago, June 7.—Hinton Carbaugh of the department of justice planned to go to Rockford today with some aids to serve fifty more warrants on persons who participated in the anti-draft demonstration there yesterday.

136 men were arrested, and so crowded the Rockford jail that many were transferred to the Freeport and Belvidere jails.

The men had insisted on being jailed rather than registering.

During the night the Rockford jail was in a turmoil, the men showering the corridor floors with broken window panes.

When the officers attempted to remove some to other jails the men resisted and it was necessary for the authorities to use clubs.

VALUABLE FLAG IS MISSING FROM HOME

MAX EICHLER LOST LARGE AMERICAN FLAG FROM PORCH YESTERDAY.

A large American flag which has floated from the front porch of the Max Eichler home, 115 Fifth St., since America declared war upon Germany, disappeared yesterday. Mr. Eichler does not like to think the flag was stolen, although he does not see how it could have blown away. If it has blown away and anyone has found it, will they please return it to Mr. Eichler?

If the flag was stolen, that thief must be a queer kind of thief. His patriotism must be of a strange turn. A man who would steal a flag for profit is the basest kind of a criminal, and he who would steal a flag for his own use is a rather crooked patriot.

WIFE WITHDRAWS HER CHARGE

Mrs. Lizzie Bondi Said She Got Up To Call Her Child.

A statement by Mrs. Lizzie Bondi, whose husband, Alex. Bondi, was arrested Tuesday night on charge that he had thrown her from a window of their home on River street, to the effect that she had gotten out of bed voluntarily to go out and look for her daughter, who had fallen down and was unable to arise, caused the authorities to drop the charge against him and he was released from jail last evening. The condition of the woman, who is at the hospital, is said to be very serious.

Fred Bott and Leo Berard Enlist In Co. G Today.

Fred J. Bott and Leo T. Berard today enlisted in Co. G, Sixth Ill. Inf., Lieut. Lloyd Lewis taking their enlistments, and in the morning they will go to Rock Island on a motorcycle to join the company. They figured it better to serve with friends and acquaintances rather than take chances on the draft sending them among strangers.

But Nine Alien Enemies Between Ages of 21 and 31 Registered in Lee County

Delayed registration cards which have been received by Sheriff Phillips since yesterday have swelled the total of registered men between the ages of 21 and 31 in Lee county to 2519, of whom 2379 are white, 17 are colored and 132 are aliens.

The summarization table which the county registration board has compiled for the war department and for Adjutant General Dickson shows that of the 2379 whites, 22 are totally disabled in this issue:

BARRY SELECTS ROCKFORD CAMP FOR STATE GROUP

DISPATCHES FROM WASHINGTON INDICATE DIXON HAS LOST PRIZE.

TO ACCOMMODATE 30,000 MEN

Formal Announcement of Selection Expected In Very Short Time.

Dispatches from Washington to the Chicago papers this morning indicate that Dixon's effort to land the U. S. army cantonment for Illinois, for which the State Board of Administration offered the use of the eptleptic colony grounds, has been futile for the messages to Chicago from the national capital say Gen. Barry, commander of the Central Department, has recommended Rockford for the Illinois division.

Other recommendations of General Barry for the Central Department, according to the Chicago papers, follow:

Michigan-Wisconsin division—Tato Creek, Mich.

Ohio-West Virginia division—Chillicothe, O.

Indiana-Kentucky division—Lexington, Ky., named as most available site, although no definite recommendation is made.

Other Sites Picked Soon.

Recommendations for the other two divisions, one comprising Minnesota, the Dakotas, Iowa and Nebraska and the other comprising Kansas and Missouri, also were made by General Barry and will be approved by the war department within a few days. It is expected the war department will announce formally the selection of these sites soon. Gen. Barry's recommendations are almost sure to be followed, it was understood, and formal approval only awaits the return of the secretary of war to Washington.

Of these six cantonment camp sites will be erected sites to accommodate populations of 30,000 soldiers each before Sept. 1. The cantonments will be constructed of wood and will be one and two stories in height. It will require approximately 4000 carloads of lumber and material to build each cantonment camp. It is estimated that these cantonments will mean a temporary increase of 120,000 in the population of the cities which get the sites.

Many Places Offered Free.

Hundreds of sites, offered free by commercial clubs and citizens, have been inspected recently by boards appointed by Gen. Barry. The final recommendations of these boards were made to Gen. Barry Sunday night and he wired his recommendations to the war department Tuesday.

The camp sites will comprise approximately 5000 acres each. In some cases they have been loaned to the government free and in other cases the government will have to lease the sites. Each site will be the training grounds for members of the new national army which will be called to the colors about Sept. 1.

The selection of the above named cities as the cantonment camp sites will mean a great deal to the citizens, merchants and manufacturers. Several cities were prepared to spend as much as $100,000 to obtain the sites.

BELIEVE BABY'S
KIDNAPER HELD

Springfield, Mo., Authorities
Jail Whole Family.

KEET BABY HEARD AT HOUSE

Adams Family and Those Held Confess to Plot to Abduct Rich Jeweler
and Child—Evidence That Baby Keet Was Included in Plot Not Obtainable.

Springfield, Mo., June 7.—Quick action is being taken to try to force confessions from the gang of kidnapers discovered in Springfield. New arrests are being made every hour and there is strong suspicion that two of the gang who arranged to do wholesale kidnaping in Missouri beginning with the abduction of C. A. Clement, a rich jeweler of Springfield, know something about the stealing of Buddy Keet. The two men, George Walker, a jitney bus driver, and C. J. Piersol, son of a veterinary, are being sweated in the offices of Judge A. A. Johnson of the criminal court.

Admit Unsuccessful Plot.

Confessions have been obtained from almost all of the gang in regard to their plans to make away with C.
A. Clement or his baby. But not one of them will own up that he knows anything about Baby Keet. Perhaps the reason is embodied in the statement of Mrs. Allie Adams the only woman arrested with the gang, who said:

"Surely they can't do anything with us on the Clement thing because we didn't really do anything. It would be different if we got him."

The whole Adams family including the father, Taylor B. Adams, the two sons, Cleatus and Maxie A., a cousin, George Walker, John Roller, another cousin, and Sam McGinnis said to be another distant relative have been put behind bars. They all say "Scarface" Riley, a strikebreaker of Chicago, is the leader of the gang.

Woman Held Suspects Others.

Mrs. Adams weeping says she feels certain that Piersol knows something about the kidnaping of baby Keet. She blamed Piersol for getting the entire Adams family into the kidnaping game and says they are all sorry. She said Piersol told her that the night
following the kidnaping of Lloyd Keet, the millionaire baby, she saw an automobile waiting in a town road.
She conveniently forgot names and addresses. She said that after some wait four men and a baby came out and drove away at high speed.

Investigation is being made of a story that a neighbor of the Piersol
household heard a baby crying there Sunday night and that the neighbor remarked about who the baby might be. Late at night two people left the Piersol home in an automobile. The next day the Piersols made it a point to tell neighbors that the doctor was called out late at night and didn't get back till almost daylight.

Was Beautiful Wedding

Friends of Miss Ruth Smith, members of the bridge club of which she has long been one, made the E. W.
Smith home a veritable bower of bridal wreath and pink roses for the Smith-Philpott wedding, which took place Wednesday evening, June 6th.
It was a large wedding with ninety guests present, those from away including: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Snyder of Kilbourn, Wis., and the Misses Elda and Elberta Smith of Springfield, cousins of Miss Smith; Mrs.
Sydney Smith of Springfield; Dr.
and Mrs. John Lord of Omaha; Mr.
and Mrs. J. C. Vaughan and little granddaughter, Martha Vaughan,
and Miss Mildred Clarke of Chicago;
Mrs. Cameron Barber of Oak Park;
Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dillon and Miss Lelia Wolfersperger of Sterling.

Mrs. Harry Snyder of Kilbourn, Wis., cousin of the bride, sang "To Have, to Hold, to Love" and "Because" as the company, the clergyman, Rev. H. M. Babin, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal church, the bridegroom, Frank Philpott, and his best man, Judge John B. Crabtree, awaited the appearance of the members of the bridal party, who came down the stairway as Mrs. Snyder sang the bridal song from Wagner's Lohengrin. Mrs. Frank Rosbrook
played the piano accompaniment.
The bride, Ruth Elizabeth Smith,
appeared on the arm of her father,
E. W. Smith, who gave her in marriage. She was preceded by the little flower girl, Martha Vaughan of Chicago, who strewed pink rose petals in the pathway of the bride from a blue basket whose handle was tied with pink tulle. White candles in crystal and silver holders were placed everywhere and illuminated the house. The ceremony was performed at 7:30 o'clock.

The bridal gown was of a soft dull white silk and white tulle over silver cloth. Embroidered in the silk of the overskirt and bodice were medallions of pearl. A long veil of tulle was worn, held in place with a silver band, with orange blossoms at the back. The bride's flowers were white Swainsons and lilies of the valley, arranged in shower bouquet. The matron of honor, Mrs. Leake, wore rose-colored tulle over silver cloth, with a short tulle veil caught by forget-me-nots. Her bouquet combined the three colors of her costume—white,
rose, and blue—in the flowers
which composed it—white sweet peas, pink roses, and forget-me-nots
—and was tied with blue tulle.
White net with ribbons of blue formed the costume of the flower girl.

After the congratulations refreshments were served in the dining room which had received a like treatment with the pink and white,
roses and valley lilies.

Mr. and Mrs. Philpott left on the 9:04 train for Clinton, Iowa, where the night was spent. They were accompanied to the depot by many of the younger guests of the company and showered generously with confetti and rice. This morning they passed through Dixon again on their way to Washington, D. C., and New York City, where the Philpott's moon will be spent. Mrs. Philpott's going-away suit was of dark blue serge with black braid trimmings
and with this she wore a black transparent hat. The relatives and near friends of Mr. and Mrs. Philpott went to the train this morning to bid them adieu. No bride will be more missed than will Mrs. Philpott, who is altogether lovely.

The new home is to be at 4429
Upton Avenue, South, Minneapolis.
Mr. Philpott, with his brother, Wil-ham Philpott, both former Dixon
residents, conducts the Philpott
Transfer & Coal Company in that city.

Prairieville Social Circle

The Prairieville Social Circle, meeting Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Theodore Behrends, voted $10 to the Lee County Red Cross Charter. Other important business was the planning of an ice cream social
to be held next Wednesday evening, June 12th, in the parlors of the Prairieville church parlors.

The entire day was spent at the pleasant Behrends home, with thirty of the members and friends present, and at noon a scramble lunch con was enjoyed. The day was largely devoted to trying a comfort at the making of quilt blocks toward a quilt for the Nachusa orphanage.

The next meeting will be held in two weeks with Mrs. Austin Powers.
Another all day session will be held at that time and the sewing for the Chicago children's orphanage will be started.

Postpone St. Ann's Picnic

Postponement of the picnic of St. Ann's Guild, to have been held at Lowell Park tomorrow, has been made until favorable weather.

Gonnerman-Senneff

The marriage of Miss Gladys Gonnerman, the elder of the charming daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gonnerman of 422 Hennepin Ave., to Hugh Armand Senneff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Senneff, 616 N.
Galena Ave., took place in Chicago Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Grace Lutheran church of which Rev. T. F. Dornblaser, formerly of St. Paul's church, this city, is pastor. Dr. Dornblaser officiated. Mr.
and Mrs. Jack Dombey of Evanston,
the latter formerly Miss Agnes Carbaugh of this city and an intimate friend of the bride, were the attendants.

The bride wore a gown of gray
taffetas combined with gold Georgette,
with cloak and hat in the gold.
A corsage bouquet of valley lilies
and roses were worn.

After the honeymoon, of which the place was unannounced, Mr. and Mrs. Senneff will go to Detroit, Mich., where Mr. Senneff has a position with the Continental Motor Company.

School Picnic

Miss Minnie Tourtellott and her pupils of the Sugar Grove school, together with the patrons of the school, will enjoy a picnic at the school tomorrow. Dinner will probably be served in the basement unless the weather is more promising than it is today.

Surprise Shower

Mrs. Randall was honored Wednesday afternoon at a surprise shower given her at the home of her mother, Mrs. Karl Kastner, by a group of ladies, among whom Mrs.
Elmer Grant, Mrs. Apelgreen, Mrs.
Ives, Mrs. Sebre, Mrs. Orville Heckman, Mrs. Dinger, and Mrs. Harry Birmingham were included. Many dainty and beautiful little gifts were presented Mrs. Randall. The afternoon was one of much social enjoyment, chat and music from the new Victrola entertaining the guests, until late in the afternoon when a delicious luncheon was served.

Fitzgerald, Mrs. Anderson, and the Misses Estella, Margaret and Olive Anderson will go to Champaign, Ill., for the commencement festivities of the University of Illinois, from which Charles Anderson, Mrs. Anderson's son, graduates. The commencement proper is on Wednesday

and at its close the party will leave for Mattoon where they will visit the I. O. O. F. home there of which Mrs. Anderson and her husband, the late O. B. Anderson, were at one time the matron and superintendent.

Decide on Aid Picnic

Mrs. Eastman and Mrs. Russell entertained the members of the Palmyra Mutual Aid: very pleasantly
Wednesday at their cozy Assembly
Park cottage, and so comfortable
was it within that those present reached little of the blustery day without. Twenty-five members were present, spreading a most delicious and well-balanced scramble lunchcon on tables for the noon-day feast, and spending the afternoon over their fancywork and chat. The setting of a date for the annual picnic,
when all the members and their families meet in one good time, was the only bit of business discussed. June 29th was named as the date and Lowell Park the place.

Girls! Use Lemons! Make a Bleaching, Beautifying Cream

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold cream.
Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lec-tion will keep for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smoother and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer, and make up a quart pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It naturally should help to often, fresher, bleach and bring out the roses and beauty of the skin. It is simply marvelous to smoothen rough,
red hands.

NEW TORNADO VISITS MISSOURI AND KANSAS

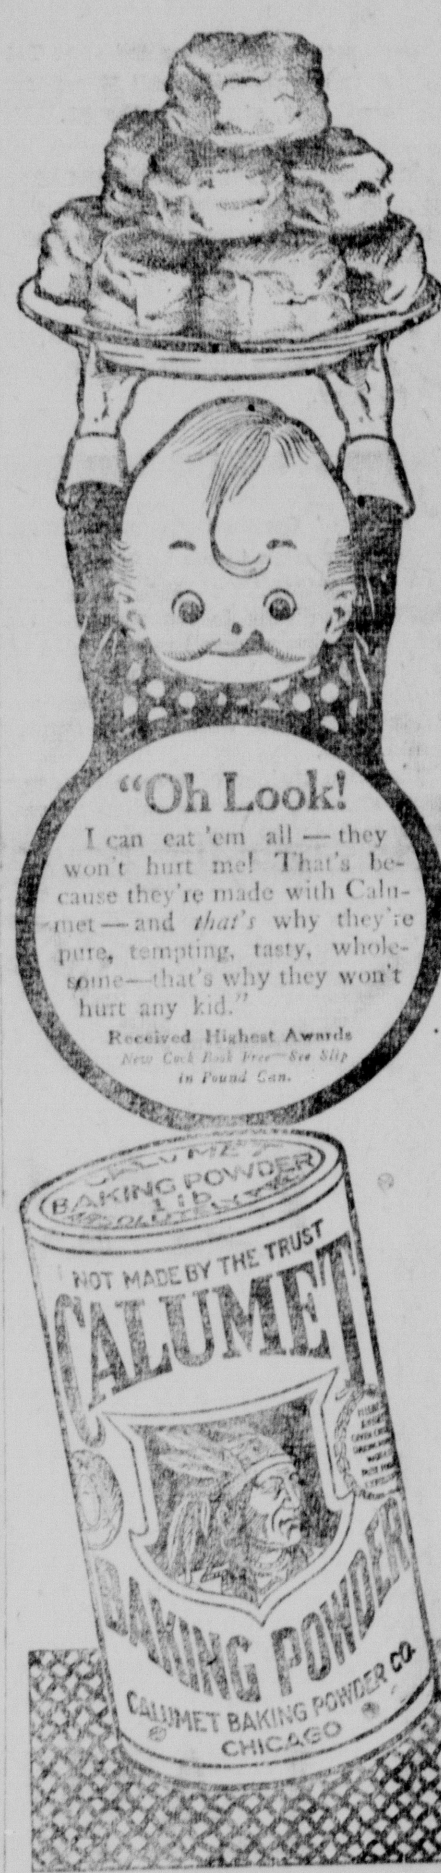

Centralia, Mo., Deaths Known
to Reach Five.

St. Louis, June 7.—Five persons are known to have been killed, thirty or more injured and fifty houses destroyed
by a tornado which struck Centralia, Mo., according to a dispatch received here. One woman is missing and it is thought she was killed.

The dead: Mrs. Louis Isel and daughter, Mrs. Jack Jennings and daughter, unidentified woman.
Farmers northeast of here report dwellings and barns destroyed. The extent of damage can not be estimated. Telephone and telegraph wires west of Centralia are down.

Columbia, Mo., June 7.—Three persons are known to be dead, two probably fatally injured and a dozen others hurt in the western part of Boone county, as the result of the tornado which struck there before reaching Centralia, in the northeastern part of the county.

Iola, Kan., June 7.—William Jaspineau was killed and his wife and four others were severely injured by a tornado near Savonburg, southeast of here. Crops were damaged and homes destroyed. It is feared several of the injured may die.

Why Shouldn't a woman be able to get wash skirts that are really pre-shrunk?

JUST five years ago The H.
Black Company, Tailors of New York and Cleveland, invented the pre-shrinking of wash skirts.

Within three years women everywhere had convinced the retail merchants that they appreciated these pre-shrunk skirts.

A good and successful idea always brings imitation. But the Wooltex pre-shrinking process
for wash skirts is too thorough to be used by any maker less sincere and reputable than The H. Black Company.

You have noticed so-called pre-shrunk wash skirts where the waist band would shrink in the washing and the skirt would not, or the skirt would shrink

and the waist band would not,
or both would shrink

Don't blame retailers for this—it's just as hard for them as for you, to tell beforehand what a new and untried brand of wash
skirts will do.

The original pre-shrunk wash skirts made and guaranteed by The H. Black Company under their Wooltex label are on sale in this store now. Every season proves their superiority.

We call your attention also to the short coats illustrated here, likewise from The H. Black Company, who are noted as makers of young women's Wooltex coats and suits. Representing a very high standard of materials, of tailoring and style creation, they are worthy your inspection. Expectancy so since they were designed to be worn with Wooltex wash skirts.

These Coats are on Sale now at $12.50

THE CANTONMENT.

Hats off to Rockford. Rockford slipped one past Dixon on the cantonment proposition and Dixon knows it and congratulates the winner, our neighbor up the river.

Dixon made considerable effort to have the encampment located here and of course would have been pleased had we been successful, but if Dixon does not get the soldiers, we don't know of any place we would rather have it go to than to Rockford. Rockford sort of had something coming to help pay for that epileptic colony that she wanted, and Dixon got.

COMMISSIONER VAN BIBBER.

Commissioner Van Bibber is entitled to a great deal of credit for the untiring efforts he is putting forth in the police department, especially in view of the small recompense he receives. His salary as Commissioner of Public Health and Safety is something like $33 per month, but he spends nearly all of his time caring for the duties of Acting Chief of Police, which have been sort of forced upon him. The Commissioner's action in attacking, bareheaded, an armed and hostile negro the other night shows commendable bravery.

STOCKHOLM SOCIALISTS RIOT

10,000 Before Royal Palace Fight Police and Troops.

Stockholm, June 7.—Ten thousand Socialists and laborers rioted in the royal square when the premier in the lower house of parliament refused the election of the Socialist Leader Branting to the upper house.

A number were wounded by sabers wielded by the police and soldiers. A big force of guards was hastily summoned to the palace and parliament house when the mob began giving indications of violence. The parade had started as a peaceable demonstration, but when the crowd found its progress barred to approaches to the palace and the parliament buildings, its temper changed.

BRAZIL DEFENDS SHIP ACT

Rio Janeiro, June 7.—Brazil has replied to the German note protesting against the requisitioning of German ships with a declaration that the republic has acted within the strict limits of the law, even as interpreted by Germany.

The Brazilian reply said in part: "The utilization of German ships by Brazil follows the torpedoing of Brazilian merchant ships and assures, directly and immediately, satisfaction for the losses caused by German submarines. Brazil is acting lawfully and on the basis of even German law."

ANTI-HIGH HEEL BILL

IS PASSED BY HOUSE

Physicians Favor Measure Putting 1 3-8 inches Limit.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., June 7.
In spite of the fact that the Kirby bill limiting the height of shoe heels to 1 3/8 inches has been a subject of much jest, the house passed it by a vote of 78 to 7.

Representative Kirby said the bill had the approval of the medical profession.

Other bills which passed the house were:

Senate bill permitting the nomination of candidates for judges of the superior court of Cook county next fall by convention, 102 to 0.

Dalley absent voters bill, already passed by the senate, 119 to 2.

Carter bill providing that theaters in which lewd or immoral entertainment is given may be closed as nuisances.

Tyers' bill abolishing per diem pay to sheriffs for feeding prisoners and requiring counties to buy and account for supplies.

"VETS" TAKE BLOOMINGTON

Civil War Soldiers of Illinois Gather for Their Annual Reunion.

BLOOMINGTON, ILL., June 7.
Bloomington found itself in the hands of the grand army of the Republic, which began its annual state encampment and the city welcomed one of the greatest gatherings of visitors in its history.

There were numerous committee meetings, a meeting of the ladies auxiliary at the First Christian church, memorial services and flag presentation to the Sabbath school of the Second Presbyterian church, and a band concert in Courthouse square by the Soldiers' Orphan Home band. Another concert by the Bloomington band took place in the evening in the square.

Wednesday evening "camp fires" were held at the Bloomington high school with Judge C. D. Myers presiding, and at the Second Presbyterian church, with Colonel C. D. Smith in the chair.

This morning the encampment proper opened in the Bloomington high school auditorium. Governor Lowden and the G. A. R. commander-in-chief, William J. Patterson of Pittsburgh, will attend. The governor is scheduled to speak this evening at a "camp fire."

WE ARE AT WAR!

And It Is A Very Serious Thing.

The disasters of war are not incurred on the battlefield alone. War and disaster go hand in hand--you cannot have one without the other.

Some of the disasters can be prevented. We, the bankers of this city, want your help in preventing one very serious disaster which threatens you--which threatens every family in this city, every family in the nation.

The first $2,000,000,000 installment of the Liberty Loan of 1917, United States War Bonds, bearing interest at 3½ per cent is before the nation for subscription. This issue must and will be fully subscribed before June 15th.

We do not believe it is necessary to convince you that the Liberty Loan is save and that it is necessary to the future prosperity of this nation. That you must know. What the banks of Dixon wish to do is to explain to you how you may purchase a Liberty Loan Bond, and to arrange it so that you can conveniently do so, whether you have the ready cash or not.

The bonds are in the denominations of $50, $100, $500 and $1000. You can buy these bonds on the installment plan, and that means that everyone who can save a few dollars out of his salary each month can own a Liberty Bond.

If you wish to buy a $50 bond you can do so by making an initial payment of $3.50 and by paying that amount semi-monthly thereafter. A $100 bond can be bought on the same plan, by doubling those amounts.

Come to one of these banks tomorrow and the banker will explain the plan in detail to you. To make your Dollars Most Effective you must ACT AT ONCE.

Talbot Ward's challenge to Frank Munroe to a personal encounter to determine whether Munroe is fit to make a trip to California in search of gold is accepted. Munroe gets a hammerlock on Ward and wins the bout.

CHAPTER V.

The Village In the Jungle.

THAT night we spent at a place called Pena Blanca, which differed in no essential from Gatun. We slept there in small sheds, along with twenty or thirty of our ship's companions wedged tightly together. A dozen other smaller sheds adjoined. We were all quarrelsome and disinclined to take much nonsense either from the natives or from each other. Also we needed and wanted food, and we had difficulty in getting it. A dozen ineffectual quarrels were extinguished because the majority of the crowd would not stand for being bothered by the row.

The next day was clearing, with occasional heavy dashing showers, but to keep us interested. The country began more to open up. We passed many grass savannas dotted with palms and a tree something like our locust. Herds of cattle fed there. The river narrowed and became swifter. Along in the early forenoon we reached bolder shores in which the trap rock descended sheer beneath the surface of the water. Directly ahead of us rose a mountain like a cone of verdure. We glided around the base of it and so came to Gorgona, situated on a high bluff beyond. This we had decided upon as the end of our river journey. To be sure we had bargained for Cruces, six miles beyond, but as the majority of our ship's companions had decided on that route we thought the Gorgona trail might be less crowded. So we beached our boat and unloaded our effects and set forth to find accommodations for the present and mules for the immediate future.

At first there seemed slight chance of getting either. The place was crowded beyond its capacity. The Hotel Francaise, a shed and tent sort of combination with a muddy natural floor, was jammed. The few native huts were crowded. Many we saw making themselves as comfortable as possible amid their effects out in the open. Some we talked with said they had been there for over a week, unable to move because of lack of transportation. They reported much fever, and, in fact, we saw one poor shivering wretch, wistful-eyed as a sick dog, braced against a tree all alone. The spirit was drained out of him, and all he wanted was to get back.

While we were discussing what to do next our muslin clad ex-padrone, who had been paid and shaken by the hand some time since, approached smoking a longer cigar than ever. This he waved at us in a most debonaire and friendly manner.

"Broad on the water," commented Talbot after a short conversation. "He says we have treated him like a brother and a true comrade in arms, which means that I did. You fellows, confound your spiteful souls, wanted to throw him overboard a dozen times. And now he says to follow him and he'll get us a place to stay."

"Some native piecey with fleas," I remarked skeptically aside to Johnny. "You count," begged the padrone, with a flash of teeth.

We came bearing our household goods, because we could nowhere see any one to bear them for us. At that we had to leave the heaviest pieces on the beach. Talbot insisted on lugging his huge bundle of newspapers.

"They may come in handy," he answered us vaguely. "Well, they're mine, and this is my back," he countered to Johnny's and my impatience with such foolishness.

The padrone led us through town to the outskirts. There we came to a substantial low house of several rooms, with a veranda and veritable chimneys. The earth in front had been beaten so hard that even the downpour of yesterday had not appreciably softened it. To our summons appeared a very suave and courteous figure, that, it appeared, of the alcalde of the place.

"My friend," explained the padrone in English, for our benefit, "they good people. They want stay. Got no place stay."

The alcalde, a portly gentleman with side whiskers and a great deal of dignity, bowed.

"My house is all yours," said he. Thus, although arriving late, we stopped at the best quarters in the town. The sense of obligation to any one but our boatman was considerably relieved when next day we paid what we owed for our lodging. Also, had it not been for Talbot and Johnny, I am sure Yank and I would have taken to the jungle. There seemed to be required so much bowing, smiling, punctiliousness and elaborate complimenting that in a short time I felt myself in the precise mental attitude of a very small monkey shaking the bars of his cage with all four hands and gibbering in the face of some benign and infinitely superior professor. I fairly ached behind the ears trying to look sufficiently alert and bland and intelligent. Yank sat stolid, chewed tobacco and spat out of the window, which also went far toward stampeding me. Talbot and Johnny, however, seemed right at home. They capped the old gentleman's most elaborate and fevered speeches, they talked at length and pompously about nothing at all, their smiles were rare and sad and lingering—not a bit like my imbecile though well meant grinning—and they seemed to be able to stick it out until judgment day. Not until I heard their private language after it was all over did I realize they were not enjoying the occasion thoroughly.

At dusk millions of fireflies came out, the earth grew velvet black, and the soft, tepid air breathed up from the river. Lights of the town flickered like larger yellow fireflies through the thin screen of palms and jungle, and the various noises, subdued by distance, mingled with the voices of thousands of insects and a strange booming from the river. I thought it very pleasant and wanted to stay out, but for some reason we were haled within. There the lamps made the low broad room very hot. We sat on real chairs, and the stifled exchange resumed. I have often wondered whether our host enjoyed it or whether he did it merely from duty and was as heartily bored as the rest of us.

A half naked servant glided in to tell us that we were wanted in the next room. We found there our good padrone and another, a fine tall man, dressed very elaborately in short jacket and slit loose trousers, all sewed with many silver buttons and ornaments.

"He my friend," explained the padrone. "He have some mules."

With the gorgeous individual Talbot concluded a bargain. He was to furnish us riding animals at $10 each per day and agreed to transport our baggage at $8 a hundredweight. The padrone stood aside, smiling cheerfully.

"I ver good friend, eh?" he demanded. "My son," said Talbot, with feeling, "you're a gentleman and a scholar. Indeed, I would go further and designate you as a genuine hippopotamus."

The padrone seemed much gratified, but immediately demanded $5. This Talbot gave him. Johnny thought the demand went far toward destroying the value of the padrone's kindness, but the rest of us differed. I believe this people, lazy and dishonest as they are, are nevertheless peculiarly susceptible to kindness. The man had started by trying to cheat us of our bargain; he ended by going out of his way to help us along.

Having paid the alcalde, we set forth. Our good padrone was on hand to say farewell to us at the edge of town. He gave us a sort of cup made from coconut husk, to which long cords had been attached. With these, he explained, we could dip up water without dismounting. We found them most convenient.

Shortly after we had left town and before we had really begun our journey in earnest we passed a most astonishing caravan going the other way. This consisted of sixteen mules and donkeys under sole charge of three men armed with antiquated and somewhat rusty muskets. On either side of each mule, slung in a rope and plain to see, hung a heavy bag of gold! Fascinated, we approached and stroked the satiny beautiful metal and wondered that on a road so crowded with travelers of all grades so precious a train should be freely entrusted to the three ragged, lazy natives. So curious did this seem that Talbot inquired of the leader why it was allowed.

"Whither would a thief run to? How could he carry away these heavy bags?" the man propounded. Often around subsequent campfires we have in idle curiosity attempted to answer these two questions successfully, but have always failed. The gold was safe.

We arrived in Panama in the afternoon, and we were all eyes, for here was a city taken directly from the pages of the "Boy's Own Pirate." Without the least effort of the imagination we could see Morgan or Kidd or some other old swashbuckler, cutlass in teehn, pistols in hand, broad sashed, fierce and ruthless, rushing over the walls or through the streets, while the cathedral bells changed wildly and women screamed. Everything about it was of the past, for somehow the modern signs of American invasion seemed temporary and to be blown away. The two story wooden houses with corridor and veranda across the face of the second story, painted in bright colors, leaned crazily out across the streets toward each other. Narrow and mysterious alleys led up between them. Ancient cathedrals and churches stood gray with age before grass grown plazas. And in the outskirts of town were massive masonry ruins of great buildings, convent and colleges, some of which had never been finished.

We stopped over one day at the Fonda Americana and then, realizing that we were probably in for a long wait, found two rooms in a house off the main street. These we rented from a native at a fairly reasonable rate. They were in the second story of a massive stone ruin whose walls had been patched up with whitewash.

Outside the walls of the city was a large encampment of tents in more economical of the miners. Here too had located a large hospital tent. There was a great deal of sickness, due to the hardships of the journey, the bad climate, irregular living, the overeating of fruit, drinking, the total lack of sanitation. In fact, only the situation of the city—out on an isthmus in the sea breezes—I am convinced, saved us from pestilence. Every American seemed to possess a patent medicine of some sort, with which he doled himself religiously in and out of season. A good many, I should think, must have fallen victims to these nostrums.

Each morning regularly we went down to harass the steamship employees. Roughly speaking, some 300 of us had bought through passage before leaving New York, and it was announced that only fifty-two additional to those already aboard could be squeezed into the first steamer. The other 248 would have to await the next. Naturally every man was determined that he would not be left, for such a delay in such a place at the time of a gold rush was unthinkable. The officials at that steamship office had no easy time. Each man wanted first of all to know just when the ship was to be expected, a thing no one could guess. Then he demanded his accommodations and had a dozen reasons why his claim should be preferred over that of the others. I never saw a more quarrelsome, noisy dog kennel than that steamship office. Why no one was ever shot there I could not tell you.

In the evening the main street was a blaze of light, and the byways were cast in darkness. The crowd was all afoot and moved restlessly to and fro from one bar or gambling place to another. Of the thousands or so of strangers we came in time to recognize by sight a great many. The journey home through the dark was perilous. We never attempted it except in company, and as Johnny seemed fascinated with a certain game called Mexican monte, we often had to endure long waits before all our party was assembled.

One morning our daily trip to the steamship office bore fruit. We found the plaza filled with excited men, all talking and gesticulating. The much tried officials had evolved a scheme for deciding which fifty-two of the 300 should go by the first ship. By next morning the transportation officials had worked it out. We could not all get into the office, so the drawing took place on the plaza outside. As each man's name was called he stepped forward, showed his ticket and was allowed to draw a slip from a box. If it proved to be a blank he went away; if he was lucky, he had his ticket vided on the spot. Such a proceeding took the greater part of the day, but the excitement remained intense. No one thought of leaving even for the noon meal.

Yank drew passage on the first steamer. Talbot, Johnny and I drew blanks.

We walked down to the shore to talk over the situation.

"We ought to have bought tickets good on this particular ship, not merely good on this line," said Johnny.

"Doesn't matter what we ought to have done," rejoined Talbot a little impatiently. "What are we going to do? Are we going to wait here until the next steamer comes along?"

"That's likely to be two or three months—nobody knows," said Johnny. "No; it's in six weeks, I believe. They tell me they've started regular trips on a new mail contract."

"Well, six weeks. If we stay in this hole we'll all be sick, we'll be broke, and in the meantime every ounce of gold in the country will have been picked up."

"What's the alternative?" I asked. "Sailing vessel," said Talbot briefly.

"That's mighty uncertain," I objected. "Nobody knows when one will get in, and when it does show up it'll be a mad scramble to get to her. There's a mob waiting to go."

"Well, it's one or the other. We can't wait, and I don't see that the situation is going to be much better when the next steamer does get here. There are a couple of hundred to crowd in on her, just counting those who are here and have tickets. And then there will be a lot more."

"I'm for the sailing vessel," said Johnny. "They come in every week or two now, and if we can't make the first one we'll have a good chance at the second or the third."

Talbot looked at me inquiringly. "Sounds reasonable," I admitted. "Then we've no time to lose," said Talbot decisively and turned away toward the town.

Yank, who had listened silently to our brief discussion, shifted his rifle to his shoulder and followed. Shortly he fell behind, and we lost him.

GET TO THE CAUSE

Dixon People Are Learning the Way

There is but little peace or comfort for the man or woman with a bad back. The distress begins in early morning—keeps up throughout the day. It's hard to get out of bed, it's torture to stoop or straighten. Plasters and liniments may relieve, but cannot cure if the cause is inside—the kidneys. When suffering so, use Doan's Kidney Pills, the tested and proven kidney remedy used in kidney troubles for over 50 years. Doan's Kidney Pills are recommended by thousands for such cases. Proof of their effectiveness in the testimony of this Dixon resident.

Mrs. Leland Pontius, 609 S. Crawford St., says: "I fairly screamed with pains in my back across my kidneys, in fact, I was as helpless as a child for nearly a month. I couldn't turn in bed and would have cold sweats. I thought the awful misery in my back would kill me. My kidneys were in terribly bad shape. I doctored and took almost everything I heard of, besides using plasters and liniments, but nothing gave relief. Our family doctor said I ought to be operated on, as I had passed gravel stone. My husband objected to the operation and got me a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. I could notice improvement right away and was finally able to get up and go about my housework. Doan's Kidney Pills removed the gravel in the form of a sort of sediment."

fly of the couple. This was in charge of Mrs. Andrew Gehant, an aunt of the bride, assisted by a number of the young lady companions of the bride and groom. The decorations were of the bride's colors and consisted entirely of white and pink furnishings.

The bride and groom are both well and favorably known here and number their friends and associates by the score. Mrs. Morrissey completed her education at St. Joseph's Seminary, Kankakee, Ill., after finishing the local high school course. Her chum of college days acted as maid of honor, coming from her home at Shelby, Ind., a week ago to be present at the occasion. Her husband is a graduate of the state normal school and holds a first grade certificate as a teacher in Illinois schools. For three years past, he has been principal of the West Brooklyn high school where his services have given the best of satisfaction. Fraternally, he is a member of the local court, Catholic Order of Foresters, and holds the responsible position of recording secretary of his court. He is also a member of the Knights of Columbus, holding his membership in the Amboy council.

On Tuesday afternoon they visited the photographer at Dixon and then left for several days' honeymoon at various places. After the coming week they will be at home on a farm near Amboy, where all wish them the best of luck and success during a long and happy life together.

A Word About TITAN
KEROSENE TRACTORS

The time is almost here when every farmer will have to consider changing over from horse or gasoline to kerosene power. According to Government figures, based on present prices of hay and grain, horse feed costs 17½ cents or more for every hour's work a horse does. That's much too much.

The Vice President of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana recently issued a public warning to users of gasoline that the time would soon come when there would not be gasoline enough to go around. It is not safe today to buy a farm tractor that requires the use of gasoline.

In the meantime, the Titan tractor, in three and four-pow sizes, has been built to work on kerosene, does work successfully on kerosene, and is guaranteed to work on kerosene.

Kerosene, which costs less than half as much as gasoline, is produced in almost unlimited quantities. You can always get a supply of common coal oil. As compared with the cost of feeding horses, a Titan tractor delivers a horse power at the drawbar at a fuel and oil cost of five cents or less for each hour's work.

Farmers who want to make all the money they can are buying Titan tractors. They are using them for field work, belt work, and hauling. We have yet to hear of the first dissatisfied Titan tractor user. Think it over. When you are ready for some valuable inside information about tractors and tractor fuel, come in and see us.
